

Coming soon: Our upgraded website!

We are upgrading our website, www.MagellanofPA.com, to more closely align with our corporate brand and to ensure a more up-to-date, efficient user experience. The site will feature the same type of content that you are accustomed to seeing on our current website – but will be more easily accessible through a modern, visually appealing layout with a streamlined menu structure.

Our site is expected to launch in the first quarter of 2018. When it's live, we encourage you to share your feedback with us so that we can continuously improve your user experience. Please email us at MBHofPA@magellanhealth.com with your thoughts.
